Dear Majority Leader Thune and Majority Whip Barrasso,

On behalf of America's healthcare professionals, we write to voice our urgent concern regarding a tax provision in H.R. 1, the One Big Beautiful Bill Act, that would harm small businesses and jeopardize patient care across the country. Our practices rely on sound tax policy to remain financially viable and deliver high-quality care to the patients and communities we serve.

Many dental and medical practices operate as pass-through entities, meaning their business income is taxed at the individual level. These small businesses are the backbone of the American economy. The number of pass-through businesses has tripled in the past 45 years, and they employ more than 50 percent of the private sector workforce.ⁱ Pass-through entities provide a sustainable and competitive financial structure, especially for small dental and medical practices in rural or underserved areas.

Section 112018 of H.R. 1 as passed by the House of Representativesⁱⁱ would eliminate the ability of certain pass-through entities, specifically those defined as specified service trades or businesses (SSTBs), to deduct state-level pass-through entity taxes (PTET) on their federal returns.

SSTBs already face limitations under the tax code, including phase-outs of the Qualified Business Income (QBI) deduction based on income thresholds. The ability to deduct PTET has helped these small businesses achieve a level playing field with other business structures and offset the cap on state and local tax (SALT) deductions imposed by the 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA).

To be clear: the PTET deduction is not a loophole, nor a workaround. It reflects the original intent of Congressⁱⁱⁱ to preserve fair treatment for all small businesses, regardless of structure. Its elimination would unfairly single out service professionals and further widen the tax disparity between them and larger corporations.

Our professions already face rising costs for staffing, equipment, technology, and continuing education efforts. Any added tax burden will make it difficult for small practices to survive. Eliminating the PTET deduction could lead to staff reductions, service limitations, and even practice closures, directly affecting patients' access to care.

We strongly urge Congress to restore the PTET deduction as the Senate deliberates on the reconciliation bill. The undersigned healthcare organizations, representing millions of healthcare professionals, support an amendment to protect PTET deductibility and ensure that small dental and medical businesses are treated fairly under the tax code.

This is not just a tax issue; it is a small business and patient access issue. Dentists, physicians, and other healthcare providers should not be arbitrarily penalized for the way their practices are structured.

We thank you for your consideration of this crucial issue. Please contact Nick Cargas with the American Dental Association at cargasn@ada.org with any questions or requests for supplemental information.

Sincerely,
